Dear Friends,

It is our pleasure to welcome you to Toronto on behalf of the Christian Host Committee for the 16th International AIDS Conference (IAC) and the Ecumenical Advocacy Alliance and its global partners.

The ecumenical and interfaith pre-conferences are the result of months of intensive efforts by many people in Canada and around the world. Together we have worked to create a space where faith-based delegates can share their experiences, learn from one another and contribute in significant ways to the IAC.

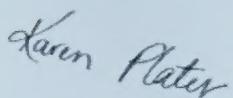

The issues surrounding HIV and AIDS are some of the most challenging and compelling issues that we have faced as faith-based communities. We hope that this will be an opportunity to meet one another, network together, celebrate our accomplishments and challenge each other to stretch ourselves even farther in the fight against HIV and AIDS.

Staff and volunteers from Canadian faith-based organizations have been working hard to prepare for your arrival – from nitty gritty logistics, to educating our churches and communities on the issues, to praying for the delegates. Having the conference come to Toronto has challenged Canadian churches to advocate with our government and churches for further action. We are thankful for the push! We hope this time together will spur us all on to even more action.

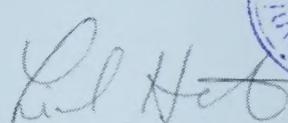

At the global level, advisory committees and volunteers from every region of the world have been guiding the preparation for the pre-conferences. In addition, teams have: supported abstract and skills building workshop proposal preparation, coordinated faith-based input into IAC planning, planned a large interfaith exhibit at the IAC, provided for chaplains and prayer space, developed a focused advocacy agenda for us to press during these days, and prepared a strong media team to tell the story of faith-based engagement at the IAC.

During the ten days of the pre-conferences and International AIDS Conference we hope that you will enjoy Canadian hospitality. We expect that you will learn and have fun. We count on your active participation and contribution from your rich experience.

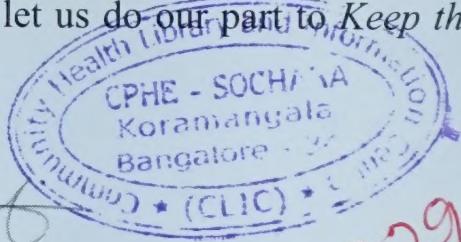

For global leaders, it is indeed “Time to Deliver”. As communities of faith, we understand the importance of commitment, solidarity, and action. In these days, let us do our part to Keep the Promise.

In this video, Canon Gideon shares with us the lessons he has learned from his journey with HIV. Given the gravity of the HIV epidemic, he calls for more relevant and accurate HIV prevention messages. He urges Christians to do away with judgmental attitudes towards HIV-positive people, and instead to offer them love and support. ## 1. Helping the Church to communicate its story of response in ways that we all understand

This workshop will help to unpack stories of how the church is responding to the AIDS pandemic and then offer suggestions as to how we develop a vocabulary and a methodology that allows those from outside of a faith perspective to engage with us more fully. Offering practical examples of the church engaging, and the opportunity to give feedback to donors and policy makers on what type of support works in creative ways and which stifle and constrain.

Streams: A and D

Also how to generate and expand systematic monitoring and evaluation of programs, document and disseminate best practices and lessons learned.

6. ABCs—What about Women?

‘Abstain, Be faithful, use a Condom,’ has become a mainstream slogan worldwide for preventing HIV infection, but by using only this we fail to protect tens of thousands of women between the ages of 15 and 30 each year. Where’s the rest of the picture? Behaviour change is not all it takes to prevent HIV infections. Young women’s choices are limited by poverty, lack of education and information, access to services and repressive gender norms. It is not as easy as ABC for young women to avoid HIV infection. Understanding the challenges makes us better equipped to address them successfully.

Please see the attached maps and directions that detail how to travel between your residences and the Pre-Conference and Conference venues. Some of you have purchased passes from the Pre-Conference and Conference that offer unlimited travel on the TTC. If you have not purchased the pass, you can pay individual fares of 2.75 CAD (try to have the exact amount as drivers do not offer change). You can also buy groups of 5 or 10 tokens or tickets for individual rides. 5 tokens/tickets are 10.50 CAD, and 10 tokens/tickets are 21.00 CAD.

* Driving: Toronto's streets follow a basic grid pattern and are fairly easy to navigate. Speed limit signs are posted on each street. Yonge Street is the major north-south street in Toronto. Major east-west street names change from east to west at Yonge Street. For example, Dundas Street West is west of Yonge Street and Dundas Street East is east of Yonge Street.

* Parking: Parking on most downtown streets is limited to specific times of day, and often requires the purchase and display of a ticket from parking machines located along the street. Cars parked in no parking zones or on streets at parking restricted times may be ticketed or towed. There are also many public parking lots throughout the city. City-owned lots are indicated by a large 'P' in a green circle.

* Taxis: There is no uniform look for Toronto taxis. Fares are standard, metered and non-negotiable. Taxis can be hailed on major streets, or called in advance.

Attempt to find one of the conference organizers who will in turn contact the facility's emergency services. If you cannot locate one of the conference organizers, find the nearest phone and dial the appropriate number (8-0 at Ryerson, 9-1-1 at New College, 9-9-1-1 at 89 Chestnut). You will need to stay on the line and provide them with as much information about the location, the situation and the victim as possible.

If you are ever outside of the conference facilities and an emergency occurs, dial 9-1-1 on any telephone (these calls are free from pay phones). Trained emergency call takers will provide you with the information and assistance you need. Calls can be received in 150 different languages; please stay on the line while the call taker contacts the interpretation service. When calling, remain calm and speak clearly. Know which emergency service you want (police, fire or ambulance) and be prepared to tell the call taker what is happening, where you are and who you are. The congregation reflects the mix of people who live in Toronto; we come from every continent, speaking many languages and appreciating many musical traditions. The more formal 11 am morning service includes a blend of music and liturgical styles that encompass ancient, classical and contemporary. The Senior Choir and soloists, accompanied by organ, piano and occasionally strings, brass, and other instruments, lead the congregation to participate actively in worship. After Morning Worship, coffee and fellowship are in the Winchester Hall. Our 7 pm evening service, "Knox at Night" is a less formal worship service featuring a Worship Team. It fuses contemporary musical style and instrumentation with a message that is classically grounded in biblical truth, spoken for this generation through word, song, drama, media, interaction and prayer.
